

Jesse M. Davis
Assistant Legal Counsel

Mr. Davis joined the Ohio Auditor of State's Office in the fall of 2018 as Assistant Legal Counsel. A native of Grove City, Ohio, Mr. Davis received his undergraduate degree from the Ohio State University before graduating from Capital University Law School in May 2017.

While a law student at Capital, Mr. Davis served as Executive Publishing Editor of the Capital University Law Review, Volume 45, and wrote an article on the need for copyright protection reform in the age of the DMCA and the art-sharing world of the internet. Prior to joining the Auditor of State's Office, he worked in private practice.

He currently resides in Grove City, Ohio, with his wife, Dany, an artist, and their Shepherd-Husky dog, Fenrir, an escape artist of the highest order who regularly makes attempts to leave his back yard confines in search of small animals to chase.
